Census Underway; Expect 3,000 Gain

Lansing's new residents took on a cash value today with announcement that the city's special census is now underway.

The announcement came from Mr. Percy R. Millard, special census supervisor of the U. S. Census Bureau.

The staff of 18 special census enumerators received their instructions at the Village Hall, he said. The census takers are ringing doorbells now.

Millard said he expects it will take about three weeks to complete the special census.

Each special census taker will carry "proper identification," Millard said. They will ask the names of all persons who reside in the dwelling at which the interview is being made, the relationship of each person living there to the head of the household, and the age, sex and race of each person.

All the information taken will be kept confidential, just as in the regular census made every 10 years.

Last census of Lansing was made in 1950, Millard explained, and it showed the city then had a population of 8,862. Today's population is now estimated at approximately 11,500.

Since state tax funds, such as that from the gasoline tax, are apportioned on the basis of population, proof of a larger population would mean large financial gains for the village, Millard explained.

Most cities estimate they gain an average of $5 per person a year for every person added to the previous census figure, with the result that every new citizen counted represents a cash income gain.

Millard asks that any householder who expects to be absent during the next two weeks leave the information desired by the census taker "in a sealed envelope with a neighbor" to give to the census enumerator when he calls.

If it is not convenient to do that, the census director said, householders are urged to call the Village Hall 1903 and leave the information with the census headquarters.

Only in that way, Millard said, can a complete picture of Lansing's population gain be secured.

Drawings Finished For New Addition To Coolidge School

Architects and Engineers, Childs and Smith have completed drawings on the new addition to the Coolidge Elementary School here in Lansing.

Bids on the construction of the new building addition have been advertised for. In this way, according to Mr. Lester P. Crawl, superintendent of Lansing Schools, the cost of the structure can be determined.

After the cost of the structure has been set a special election will be held in Lansing to o.k. or disapprove the new building project.

The building will include five class rooms similar to those constructed in the Eisenhower school, a multipurpose room, a kitchen, library room and office space for teachers and principal.

The building would be connected to the present building by a foyer near the gymnasium. The plans have been laid out so that the kitchen could service the multipurpose room and also the gymnasium of the old school.

Plans call for a building approximately 218 ft. long by 66 ft. in width.

The Lansing School Board, which is headed by Rexford McNair, was advised to build a new addition to the Coolidge School after a survey was made by Dr. W. C. Reavis, University of Chicago School Consultant.

1953 ILLINOIS PRESS ASSOCIATION 1953

Cooperation Asked

The cooperation of Lansing residents with the enumerators in the special city census was urged this week as approximately 18 census takers assembled in the Village Hall for training

All of the enumerators will be given identification papers so that there will be no doubt as to their authority to ask the relevant questions.

The special census will require only brief interviews, with information to be sought on the names of all persons residing in the home, their relationship to the head of the household, their age, their sex, and their race.

Any residents who are expecting to be absent from home during the daytime hours in the next two weeks are asked either to phone the Village Hall at Lansing 1903 or leave the required information in a sealed envelope with a neighbor.

Copoeration of all residents is necessary if the census is to be a success. It is expected that the census will reveal an increase in population from the 8.862 recorded in 1950 to a present 11,500. It will result in increased funds from state taxes apportioned on the basis of population.

Triezenberg, Dykstra Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. John Triezenberg, 2306 Thornton Rd., Lansing, announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruth to Mr. Gerben Dykstra, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dykstra, 10835 Crawford Ave., Oak Lawn, Ill.

The wedding was held at the First Reformed Church of Lansing at 7:30 p.m. July 21, 1953.

The decorations were palms and candles. The Rev. Daniel H. Fylstra read the ceremony. The organist was Mr. Lloyd Kleinhuisen and the soloist was Mr. Harvey Anker. Mr. Anker sang "Because" and "God Sent You to Me." The bride and groom knelt in prayer as Mr. Anker sang "The Lord's Prayer." It was a double ring ceremony.

The bride's dress was long sleeved with a bodice of chantilly lace with tulle ruffle accentuating a low V cut neck with tulle vestee. Bodice had Skinner's satin camisole beneath. The sleeves were edged with tulle.

The tulle edged lace peplum extended far down over the full satin beneath tule skirt which fell into a long train.

A ruffled satin headpiece accented with lace and pearls held the finger tip veil secure.

She carried a bouquet of white roses.

The bride was given away by her father.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Melvin Porter, sister of the bride, wore grey chantilly lace bodice and full grey net skirt over rosy pink taffeta. The bridesmaids, Betty Triezenberg, sister of the bride, and Charlotte Jansma wore grey over copen blue taffeta as did the flower girl Joanne Triezenberg, cousin of the bride. All of the hats were grey lace over taffeta with rosettes on the side styled to match the bride's headpiece.

The entire outfits, dresses and headpieces, were designed and made by the bride's mother.

Flowers were yellow and pink and blue roses. The ring bearer was Johnie Johnson.

Ushers were Clarence DeHaan and Elmer Rekan. The groomsmen were Clarence Valgersdyke and John Van Laten. Serving as best man was Kenneth Olthoff.

About 170 guests were present at the reception.

The couple left on a short honeymoon to Northern Michigan. Upon their return they will reside in Englewood, Ill.

The groom went to Chicago Christian High School and Calvin College, Michigan, and will again be attending Illinois Medical School in Chicago in the fall. At present he is working at the Englewood Hospital.

The bride was employed as a bank teller. She attended Thornton Township H. S. and Hartnett Business College.

Homewood Edges Lansing 7-6 In Little League Playoffs

The Lansing All-Star Little League tournament team traveled to Park Forest on July 24th and played a ball game that will long be remembered by Lansing enthusiasts. Even though they were defeated 7-6, all of the players and managers Valiska and Johnson did a wonderful job on the playing field.

In the pre-game ceremonies all of the officials were introduced via the P.A. system. Then every player on both the Homewood team and Lansing team was announced.

The Homewood boys lined up on the third base foul line while the Lansing players lined up on the first base line. Next came the playing of our National Anthem and for a moment the jam packed field was quiet. Following this came the cry of 'Play Ball' and the tournament was under way.

BIBLE KNOWLEDGE HELPS WIN A CROWN
—from Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

In Bellevue, Ohio, the 15-year-old vocabulary queen of the local high school owes her crown to her Bible knowledge.

Karen Hassinger was one of four girls left in the contest when the moderator asked for the definition of "abase."

The other three girls were quickly eliminated. But Karen replied, "I'm not sure, but I know what Christ said: 'And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted.' So I think the word means—to bring down."

Karen was right! The text she quoted is found in Matthew 23:12. "Abase" as used here does mean to "bring down." It is a good thing to know the meaning of the word, but much better to practice that meaning.

The Word of God also says: "Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and He shall lift you up" (James 4:10). Again: "Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time" (I Pet. 5:6).

The first king of the first Gentile world empire said of the Lord: "Those that walk in pride He is able to abave" (Dan. 4:37).

"Pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall" (Prov. 16:18). Longfellow may have had that proverb in mind when he wrote:

"Pride goeth forth on horseback
Grand and gay,
But cometh back on foot,
And begs its way."

The Lord Jesus "humbled Himself and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross"—and that for our sakes. It is pride of the worst type to think salvation may be obtained in any other way than by grace through faith, without works.

1000 Bicycle Riders Injured; Bicycle Safety Rules

Nearly 1000 bicycle riders were injured last year when struck by motor vehicles in Illinois. Of these, 580 were injured during the summer months. Fifteen of the 23 bicyclists killed last year, had their accidents in the summer. The number of bicyclists killed last year was double the number killed in 1951 and the toll may well rise again this year unless bicyclists and motorists refresh their memories about safe practices and apply them this summer.

Below is a list of practical pointers which will help bicyclists to avoid accidents.

Do—Obey all traffic laws, signs, and signals.

Do—Display a white head lamp and a red tail light when riding between sunset and sunrise.

Do—Be alert for traffic from all directions.

Do—Give both pedestrians and motor vehicles the right-of-way.

Do — Stop before entering a street from a driveway or alley.

Do—Ride near the right-hand pavement edge.

Do—Keep the bicycle in good operating condition.

Do not—Ride on heavily travelled streets.

Do not—Ride more than two abreast when on a public highway.

Do not—Ride double nor do trick riding.

Do not—Hitch to motor vehicles or street cars.

Do not—Play riding games in the street.

Gems of Thought

LOVE

Love cannot be a mere abstraction, or goodness without activity and power.
—Mary Baker Eddy

Though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing. 1 Cor. 13:3.

You can take nothing greater to the heathen world than the impress and the reflection of the Love of God upon your own character. That is the universal language.
—Henry Drummond

All loves should be simply stepping-stones to the love of God.
Plato

Love is to the moral nature what the sun is to the earth.
—Honore de Balzac

Love makes obedience lighter than liberty.

Home Cooking TREATS

Have you a favorite recipe? We would like to print it along with your picture in the Journal. There must be some wonderful cooks in Lansing and Munster! Call Lansin 720.

Tomatoes packed by the cold-pack method are superior in flavor, texture, color and fragrance to those canned by the hot-pack method, according to recent experiments conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture.

What's more, the cold-pack way is quicker and easier than the hot-pack.

Wash the tomatoes and plunge them into boiling water for half a minute. Then dip them in cold water for a few seconds and peel. In peeling, be sure to remove all the core at the stem end, as leaving part of the green core in tomatoes may cause spoilage.

Pack the tomatoes into clean, sterile jars. You can press the fruit down gently in the jar, but don't squash it. Leave one-half inch of head space, and add a teaspoon of salt to quart jars and one-half teaspoon to pints. Process in boiling water—45 minutes for quarts and 35 minutes for pints.

Select only firm, ripe tomatoes for canning. A bad spot or an over-ripe mushy tomato can lead to costly spoilage, warns Frances Cook, foods specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Home gardeners will receive some expert advice on raising the popular flowers from a man who's a specialist in the field. He's H. C. Durland, of Mount Prospect, who has won many prizes with his glads.

Knotts Berry Farm A Fabulous Place

by Olive Wulfing

Saturday I spent with my husband's niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Al Nix and their lovely daughter, Mary Jo. Some folks in our Journal reader area may remember them since they lived in the Calumet region before coming to California.

Being something of a celebration it was planned to have dinner at the Knotts Berry Farm, a fabulous place. One begins to understand superlatives better after seeing some of the amazing things in California.

I had a wonderful time at the Berry farm. The dinner was very fine, the chicken fried just right, biscuits that were masterpieces and their traditional Boysenberry pie was superb.

The whole place, which now covers 260 acres, is like a fairy story come true. But then it is an "American Story" which, in real life is better than a fairy story. It is a demonstration of American opportunity, and the reward and rich fulfillment that come from faith backed up by sincerity and hard work.

In 1920 the Knotts family rented this berry farm. They built a wayside berry stand and sold fruit to passers by. By 1927 they were able to buy 10 acres of the farm and Mrs. Knotts had added home made jam and berry pie to the stock of the little stand.

Folks liked the pies. A little tea room was opened. By 1937 the tea room would seat 300 diners.

The five Knotts children stayed by the enterprise and today it provides individual businesses for each of them.

One may go there and dine, then spend as much time as one likes being entertained, gratis. There was no charge to any attraction, but you could find most anything you wanted to buy from semi-precious gems to cowboy clothes.

In planning and arranging their exhibitions the family has used unusual good judgment. An historical theme has been adhered to throughout.

Ghost town, built in replica of a California gold mining town during the gold rush was far from Ghost like Saturday. Hundreds of people were thronging its streets and old time wooden sidewalks.

The saloon, where Boysenberry juice, coco-cola and the like are served, was doing a lively business to the music of a tin pan alley piano and crinoline clad girl singer after the fashion of 1849.

But the most impressive show was the "Covered Wagon." It lasts but three minutes, but it is moving and spectacular, and from it one learns Mr. Knotts' motive for building Ghost Town.

It is a life size diorama of a wagon train deep in desert country as night falls. The little girl in the first wagon represents Mr. Knotts' own mother. The narrator and lighting provide high drama.

Another delightful spot is the wagon camp. Circled about by prairie wagons with a roaring camp fire blazing in the center, spectators may sit in the amphitheatre formed in half the circle and watch a square dance swinging lively on the other side of the camp fire.

There is reverence too. A small chapel provides a quiet spot for meditation, and houses an unusual painting of the Christ, featuring a brief talk about the painting's conception.

The flower gardens are a glorious mass of blossoming color. The roses alone are worth the trip to the farm.

Statistics, they say, are wonderful things. From a small berry stand in the 1920's this remarkable family has built a restaurant business that served 1,238,155 dinners in 1952. It provided 11,853 dinners mother's day of that year, serving 1,668 pies and 57,049 of those wonderful biscuits.

Don't miss this spot if you come to California. It fills you with good food, the wonder and adventure of America's modern opportunity, and nostalgia for an America that has passed.

Public spirited local merchants, as an expression of goodwill, want you to receive this lovely basket of gifts if you have just moved to the city, become engaged, are a Mother, or have just moved to a new address within the city. There's nothing to buy. No obligation. Phone your Welcome Wagon Hostess whose phone is listed below and arrange to receive these gifts.

New Auto Plates, White And Green, Issue In 1954

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier announced today that Hemp & Co., Macomb (Illinois) had been awarded the contract for the manufacturing of 1954 license plates.

Secretary Carpentier also announced that the color combination of the 1954 license will be white numerals against a kelly green background. The year and the state name will be at the top of the plate. The figure nineteen and fifty-four will be separated by the completed spelling of Illinois. (19 Illinois 54).

It marks the first time in some years that the name of the state has been spelled out.

The bottom portion of the license plate will bear the slogan "Land of Lincoln," Secretary Carpentier said. Carpentier was afforded discretionary power by the 68th General Assembly to place a silhouette of the head of Lincoln on the plates, but according to the Secretary the addition would have cost the state more than $250,000 annually, principally in mailing charges.

The plates would have had to have been enlarged and the extra weight would have caused an increase of approximately fifteen cents for each set of the more than one million five hundred thousand sets distributed to motor vehicle operators through the use of postal facilities.

Application blanks for 1954 plates will be available by October 1st, Secretary Carpentier stated, and the period for re-assignment requests of present license numbers will extend from October 1 to midnight November 1.

Gladiolus—from bulb to table centerpiece—will be featured on the "Farmtown, U. S. A." television show Saturday, August 1.

Family guardian

Baby Sitter's Helper

...yours for the asking!

Nobody is ever alone with a telephone in the house. So when you leave your child with a baby sitter, your telephone makes it possible for you to go out with even greater peace of mind. Of course, you have confidence in your sitter. But there's added comfort in knowing that the telephone is on hand, too. If an emergency should arise, a call can quickly put her in touch with you or the other guardians of family safety: your doctor, the police and fire departments.

We've prepared a handy card to help your baby sitter. It has places for all the vital information you'll want to leave with her. With this card, called the "Family Guardian"—the baby sitter's helper, she'll be prepared for anything that might come up. Would you like to have one?

This card, the "Family Guardian," has a place for you to list the telephone number where you can be reached. There's a whole pad of slips so you can use a new one each time.

And below the pad is a permanent space for the telephone numbers of your doctor, the police and fire departments and your neighbors.

Call or drop in at your local telephone Business Office for one. Or write the Illinois Bell Telephone Company, Department Y, Chicago 5, Illinois. We'll send you one right away.

No price can measure its usefulness

NEWS FOR VETS

The Illinois Veterans Commission announced today that the Veterans Administration has approved 36 institutions offering correspondence study for veterans under the G. I. bill provided for Korean war veterans.

Approved courses cover a wide field, ranging from locksmithing and piano tuning to gemology and radio and television. Additional courses and institutions will be approved from time to time by the central office of the VA.

Veterans taking correspondence courses receive an education and training allowance based on the established charge required of non-veterans.

The VA allowance is paid quarterly on a prorated basis for certified number of lessons completed and serviced. The G.I. bill entitlement charged against the veteran is one-fourth the time he is enrolled.

Illinois Veterans Commission service officers are prepared to advise veterans as to the names and addresses of the approved schools and the courses offered.

In Cook and Lake Counties veterans should contact John P. Demski, Service Officer, 716 Wentworth St., in Calumet City, Ill.

The office is open daily between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., and on Saturday until noon.

Illinois veterans planning to enter school under the Korean GI Bill this fall were reminded by the Veterans Administration today that they will receive their first subsistance checks in half the time if applications are made now.

Robert D. Beer, manager of the VA Regional Office, Chicago, urged veterans to avoid the fall enrollment peak by applying now for certificates of eligibility. Veterans should also contact the school of their choice before applying because the application must name the educational institution and specific course of training under the law, Beer said.

The monthly GI allowances are the only payments made under the Korean GI Bill. With the help of these checks, veteran-trainees must meet all their own training expenses—tuition, fees, books and the like.

Allowance checks are mailed sometime after the end of each month of training completed. But before VA can make a payment, it must receive certification—signed by the veteran and his school or establishment—stating that he was actually in training during that month. Checks usually go out within 20 days after VA gets the certification.

Another point veterans should keep in mind is to check application forms carefully to be sure they're completely filled out, before mailing them to VA. A photostat or certified copy of separation papers should accompany the applications. Incomplete applications will also mean unnecessary delays.

Beer estimated that 75,000 Illinois veterans are now potentially eligible for training under the Korean GI Bill.
